LOCATION

The property is located in Dalmarnock, an improving residential area lying to the east of Glasgow city centre. It neighbours Dalmarnock Railway Station which was upgraded as part of the Commonwealth Games in 2014 and sits in the shadows of Celtic Park and Emirates Arena. The property forms part of a Clyde Gateway Residential Regeneration Area with investment in excess of £1 billion being committed to provide a mix of housing and commercial space supported by the excellent road and public transport infrastructure already in place. On the former Commonwealth Games Bus Park opposite, a Lidl Supermarket is currently seeking planning consent.

On completion, the units will enjoy excellent frontage on to Dalmarnock Road, immediately to the east of the railway station and Swanston Street which leads to Magenta Business Park on the south side of the River Clyde.

DESCRIPTION

The property comprises two new build retail units occupying a corner position on the ground floor of a six storey residential block of flats. The block forms one of five within this development which on completion will contain 237 residential dwellings. The units will benefit from full height glazed frontages overlooking a well-designed urban realm with trees and seating areas to encourage utilisation of the space and become a focal point for local residents. A layout of the development is shown below.
