DESCRIPTION

Stewkley House is a prominent, detached warehouse / industrial unit of brick and block construction with a metal clad front elevation, set out over ground and part first floor. To the rear of the property is a separate, detached two storey building comprising 8 individual units for studios, storage or office space, and 4 high spec offices on the ground floor.

The accommodation provides a balance of part open plan and part cellular floorspace with a minimum ground floor height of approx 4m, with 3 phase power, 115 solar roof panels, w.c's and car parking to the front. Goods access is via the side of the unit where there is a roller shutter loading door with pedestrian access along both sides of the building.

The property has good development potential (subject to planning) for industrial and also residential given the large scale residential development to the rear of the premises next to Tesco, where a new 16 storey apartment block has recently been constructed comprising approximately 278 new homes.

TERMS

The property is available on a freehold basis.

LOCATION

The property is prominently positioned on Wadsworth Road which is located at the centre of the Perivale industrial estate and situated just off the A40 between Uxbridge and Park Royal.
