LOCATION

The property is situated at the junction of Smith road and Station Road within the small rural village of Rothenorman which stands approximately 27 miles North West of Aberdeen City and 9 miles North of Inverurie.

DESCRIPTION

The subjects comprise a detached industrial facility which provides warehouse and office accommodation. The main building is of a three bay design constructed from steel portal framework with block infill walls to full height having being roughcast externally. The roof sections have been formed from steel trusses, pitched and clad in single skin corrugated asbestos sheeting. There is a 5 tonne overhead crane and access by the way of 6 metre high roller shutter door.

A number of single storey additions are attached to the main building and inter-linked to the same. Each of these buildings are of single storey height and of concrete blockwork construction again roughcast externally. The roof sections are of flat design partly clad in mineral felt and otherwise finished in single skin metal profile sheeting.

A number of accesses are available to each of the buildings, comprising of powered metal roller shutter doors and metal sliding doors.

Internally the walls within the property have been finished to the inside face at the blockwork and the ceilings are finished to underside of the roof structures. The flooring throughout is of concrete.
